Personal Development Plan

During the minor 'Be Creative' you, as a student, will be assessed on your personal growth during the minor. You will decide on which aspects you want to focus your development by defining your personal learning goals. You will define those goals in your Personal Development Plan (PDP) under supervision of your tutor.

Evaluation of personal wellbeing

What is your evaluation of your personal wellbeing in and outside of school for the past year?

My personal well being is good

Achievements

Please list your three main achievements over the period since your last evaluation. Start with the achievement that was the most impactful for you.

NA

Feedback

Please summarize the most valuable feedback from your classmates about the period since your last evaluation. You could ask your current classmates the following three questions: What would be helpful for me to continue/start/stop doing?

-Working more on improving soft skills -Always plan ahead

Personal analysis

How would you summarize your performance so far in personal strengths and weaknesses?
How can these personal strengths and weaknesses lead to opportunities and threats to bring out the best of you?

Strengths (+)	Weaknesses (-)
-Maths -Digital Design -PCB design -English	-Coding (C++ Python) -Embedded systems -Dutch

Opportunities (+)	Threats (-)
-Quick Learner -7 well educated project members, in this case it is always easy to ask for help…	-Laziness -Time -Confusion

Learning Goals

Define two soft goals and two hard goals that you want to focus on during the minor. Write SMART-learning goals. Each student will choose a minimum of four personal goals.

Soft goals	Hard goals
-Communication skills/Attitude with others	-Learn Latex
-Report Skills	-Embedded Coding
